

Swiss Post Cargo

Multimodal transport

Are you looking to easily and efficiently transport containers of merchandise, raw materials, bulk solids or dangerous goods from east to west and from north to south? Then combined transport is the right solution for you.

Swiss Post will load your goods from road to rail and deliver them to your chosen address in a cost-efficient and environmentally friendly way. Thanks to the flexibility of the road network and the reliability of rail transport, combined transport allows you to achieve optimal profitability.

A comprehensive transport solution

Combined transport is based on a sophisticated transport concept. We provide you with the most suitable material, take care of road transport, organize transshipment and transportation by rail and finally deliver the goods to their destination. The combination of road and rail is particularly well suited for the transport of perishable goods that cannot be exposed to variations in temperature.

For regular transport

Combined transport was specially designed for the regular transport of merchandise, raw materials, bulk solids or dangerous goods on the east-west and north-south transport routes in Switzerland.

Combined transport: How it works

- 1. Road transport
We collect your goods and transport them by truck to an initial transshipment platform.
- 2. Transshipment
Your goods are loaded onto trains.
- 3. Rail transport
Your goods are transported by rail to the nearest transshipment platform.
- 4. Transshipment
Your goods are transferred to a vehicle that immediately transports them to their destination.

You can also deliver or collect your goods to/from one of our transshipment platforms (Dailens, Härkingen, Frauenfeld, Landquart or Cadenazzo).
